Using 20th century design in a 21st century home

Itching to incorporate the 20th century look into your home, but aren't quite sure where to begin? We recommend starting with a chair – a single statement piece to reflect either your personality, or the era of the property.

20th century design offers something for every taste, from sophisticated designer pieces like the Arne Jacobsen Egg Chair, to fun, retro classics from the 1950s. Here is a selection of our favourite pieces to get you started...
