

Season's greetings

Hopefully the present buying is almost over and you are ready to put your feet up and enjoy the festivities. However, for those who are entertaining this Christmas the fun is just about to start. We're sure you've got everything under control, but just incase you've missed anything, here's a few companies that may be able to help...

The perfect outfit

Wonderfully Quirky sells gorgeous and unique vintage clothing and the prices are great. This 1950s prom dress is just £110!

The cosy guest room

Pretty Practicals have some fantastic bedding, if you are expecting extra guests over the festive period, this is the place to look.

The magical table setting

The Crockery Cupboard is a London based company that hires out beautiful vintage crockery – perfect!

For further information or to purchase an item directly from the seller, please visit www.iwantvintage.co.uk